Abstract: 250 words maximum. Use 12 point Arial font, single space.

The next edition of the Highway Capacity Manual (HCM) will have a completely new chapter on roundabouts. The current HCM has a procedure based on a very limited amount of data from single-lane roundabouts and provides only capacity estimates. The new procedure is based on the national research on roundabout operations presented in NCHRP Report 572. The procedure significantly expands its usability to single-lane and double-lane roundabouts and provides guidance on the use of tools to cover cases outside the analytical methodology. This presentation will provide an overview of the elements of the draft chapter.
