byuite Second stop, Pearl Harbor! It was a great day to remember our history and see how far we've come. We reminisce about ancestors in WWII and paid a moment of silence #byuite

Pearl Harbor → Makapu'u Tidepools byuite Third stop, the Makapu'u Tidepools! Beside the lighthouse were so many tidepools! Supposedly there's a lot of dangerous animals there, but we say lots of anemones and fish #byuite #likeMontereyBaybutinperson

Makapu'u Tidepools → Helena's Hawaiian Food

byuite We were so hungry, we stopped by Helena's Hawaiian Food! It was SO good. We had roasted pig, pulled pork, fish, and macaroni salad. Can we say food coma?? #byuite

Helena's Hawaiian Food → Lanikai Pillboxes byuite Decided to burn off all that food with a good fashioned hike at the Lanikai Pillboxes. It was voted the best hike in Hawaii, and we agree. Worth the practically vertical climb #byuite

Lanikai Pillboxes → Ala Moana Center

byuite We decided to end the day with a relaxing visit to the Ala Moana Shopping Center. We shopped around and found great finds! Look at Sami and Natalie's find of sundresses and bags. Ready for the banquet! #byuite byuite We can't forget the most important part of our travels, transportation! Did you know there isn't that much roadway in Hawaii? Public transit is a must, so we took advantage of TheBus! Met fun people from all around #byuite byuite Our favorite mode by far were the Biki E-Bike. With it being electric, it gives you a push, making both flat areas and hills easy. Don't worry, we found helmets :) #byuite byuite We loved the Buddy Scooters (they're actually mopeds! Surprise!) We took them from Helena's to our hike to the pillboxes. They got us around quickly and efficiently! #byuite byuite And the most cost effective type of transportation: walking! It's a great way to enjoy the weather. We didn't have tons of time to walk, but we suggest doing it if you're on Honolulu for more than a day! #byuite
